Always putting the best forward

Seniors Lisa Walker—Pop Squad, Marilyn Deibert—Drill Team, and Christine Robinson—Band and Drama, keep a close watch on all the entertainment for Blanco students.

Striving to keep everyone informed

Lari Jones—Ads and Elementary (bottom left), Janet Doss—Elementary, Wesley Elrod—Ads (top), and Bill Spangin—Advisor for Annual and Panther Chat, have a large responsibility toward the Annual.

The Annual and Newspaper Staff hope you enjoy this publication, the '84 Panther. A lot of hard work and dedication has been put forth in preparing this yearbook. This publication shows the activities of another outstanding year for Blanco Schools.

Besides preparing the yearbook, the staff also distributes the monthly publication called the Panther Chat. Being printed in the Blanco County News enables us to communicate to the students and public, and to show all the good things that happen at school.

A great deal of thanks goes to our faithful advertisers and especially to Mr. Jim Jones, who lets the staff use his equipment and machines at no expense. Without these wonderful people, none of these publications would be possible.

Just missed sweepstakes

Above: Throughout the year, the band displayed the pride and discipline necessary to achieve success and admiration of the community. They received a rating of I at U.I.L. Marching contest and made an excellent performance at Concert and Sight-Reading, receiving II's. Other activities included participation in Summer Band Camp, Westlake Marching Festival, the Band Bonnet Ice Cream Social, and Spring Concert.

Above: For all of her outstanding musical achievements throughout her 6 years in high school band, Senior Christie Robinson was presented with the John Philip Sousa award. She has placed at District Band 2 years, and participated in solo and ensemble, qualifying for state on a class I saxophone solo this year. Director Kenny Ersch has been extremely pleased with her work as drum major and is proud that he can add her name to the list of distinguished band members.

For her undying support and help by playing piano accompaniments for all of the solo and ensemble participants, the band presented Mrs. Clair Glor with a token of their thanks.

Outstanding leaders

Adding color and variety to the band's marching performances, the Panther Flag Corps consists of Tracy Hunt, Sandra Schufeldt, and Kathy Tamayo. Not pictured are Darlene Penhorn and Pauline Upham.

Junior Debbie Robinson displays musical accomplishment by placing in District Band on concert french horn, receiving a rating of 1 on a class one baritone solo, as well as playing marching french horn during football season and being a featured soloist at U.I.L. marching contest.

make goals achievable

Margaret's superb abilities on the drums kept the crowds "stompin'" all season.

William and Lanae, chosen from among senior band members, represented the band well as Ms. and Miss Panther Band.

Senior Janet Dees sings and shakes her way through the fight song at one of her numerous pep rallies. Being a cheerleader her Senior year, made her last year outstanding.

Sponsoring the Varsity Squad was very patient Ms. Ann Beckham. It takes an immense amount of perseverance. Coach Beckham tolerated a lot of the girls' crazy ideas. They love her for it.

Senior Justin Calhoun accepted the honor of football hero from head cheerleader Lisa Walker. You can see why he got beta by the way he's squeezing Lisa.

Junior Dana Riba liked whipped cream a lot more before this outstanding pep rally. The girls went from whipped cream fights, setting out mini cookies, and cookie monsters to rolling on the gym floor spelling words.

Senior Carlette Crowder gets a good bit of that Panther Spirit from head to toe. The Cheerleaders sold pins to be thrown at them to raise money. Great Fund Raiser!

Drill team's dancing abilities make events more than special

Co-Captain and 1981 Miss Pantherette Lanasa Bika happily awards Co-Captain Amy Smith the title of 1983 Miss Pantherette.

Sponsor Shyrle Brooks gladly accepts a surprise from the football captains for all her effort in adding enthusiasm to the Friday night Panther Fan gatherings.

Just because she had an ankle injury outside practices, Carolyn Dechert still played a big part in the Drill Team's performances. As the Pantherette's "Blue Jockey," she made sure the music was played while her fellow members put on some great shows.

Participating before crowds enables members to show their talents

One-act play works miracles

Right: Director Janet Mahry's excitement pours out in the form of happy tears as she accepts the plaque for the One-Act Play's first-ever Area Win, qualifying them to compete at Regional where they were awarded 3rd place as Regional Alternate.

Above: Senior Lisa Walker shows definite versatility of character portraying the devilish Black-widow spider in "Once Upon a Clothesline."

Left: Audiences left every performance of "The Miracle Worker" in literal tears because of the award-winning acting of Senior Len Twissell (playing Anne Sullivan), who won District All-Star Cast and Regional All-Star Cast, and Sophomore Julie Hutton (Helen Keller), who received honors as District Best Actress, Area All-Star Cast, and Regional Honorable Mention.

Below: Portraying the role of Kate Keller with life-like intensity, Senior Christi Robinson was named to the District All-Star Cast and was awarded Best Actress at Area.

Above: Because of her leadership abilities, Junior Amy Gausley was chosen as Area Parliamentarian and will attend the National convention in Chicago, Illinois. Amy also won first place in Job Interviews at the area meeting.

FHA always dares to discover

Left: Carol Summy, the backbone of the organization and a friend to each and every member is not only the advisor of FHA, but is also involved in many other school activities. Mrs. Summy is always there to lend a helping hand and smooth out sticky situations when they arise—a wonderful, beautiful lady.

Below: Being an area officer is an honor for an FHA member and the chapter. Carlotta competed against ten other chapters for the office of Vice-President of Programs and won. Her position entitled her to attend the National convention in Washington, D.C.

Right: In conjunction with Young Homemakers—FHA's sister organization—and the Blaine County Sheriff's Department, FHA fingerprinted many students in the county so their parents could have a positive identification of their child in the event of an unfortunate situation.

Above: One of the highlights of the Future Homemakers' was their very energetic speaker Arnold Williams. His vigor and enthusiasm really kept the crowd up and alive.

Above: When a member is elected as a local officer, he or she is faced with many responsibilities. These newly elected officers attend an installation ceremony and were installed as the 1984-85 FHA officers.

FFA trains leaders

Right: FFA members try to prepare themselves for employment after graduation. Senior Jason Calamit is trying to improve his welding skill for a possible job after graduation.

Below: Treasurer Larry Kusbel has a welding mask on, but this does not make his treasury skills.

Members learn by doing

Left: Advisor Pat Barrett is always there to help FFA members. Small engines can cause problems and being able to fix them yourself is convenient and less costly.

Below: If a large engine is in need of repair, FFA members attempt to fix them with the help of fellow members. Derson and Brad are trying to jointly "fix" an engine.

President Sheila Dechert and Secretary Carolyn Dechert were selected as Chapter Sweetheart and Princess respectively. Their leadership has made the organization function successfully.

Caring for projects is a major duty of FFA members who participated in area shows. Student Advisor Milton Grenselge showed Cross Breed hogs at the Blanton County Livestock show in Johnson City.

Above: Learning by doing is part of the motto of FFA. Marilyn attempts to learn to sew so she can help herself in later life.

Left: Assisting other people is an objective of FFA. Colby uses his carpentry skills on a done for the award winning UIL play.

Student Council reps chosen from each class

Officers (top to bottom) President Margaret Berger, Vice President Amy Gourley, Secretary/Treasurer Richard Smith, and Parliamentarian Paul Elrod.

Before the holidays really begin, the Student Council gives a Christmas dance which is attended by a large portion of the student body. Freshman Laurie Martin "boogied" to the great rock-o-roll music.

On the profits from the candy machines, the Student Council is able to provide activities, such as dances, for the student body. Kenneth Hostetler and Rudy Ruiz make the most of the dances after the Dripping Springs upset in February.

Candy machine profits provide funds for council activities

Sophomore Mike Dechart and Freshman Lisa Kiernat really "got down" to the records played by the KTSA disc jockey at the February Valentine's Dance.

A Blanco first— Baseball wins Regional

Right: Our Senior 1st Team All District Catcher Richard Smith has always been an outstanding athlete. His ability behind the plate was the deciding factor in many tight situations for this Regional Winning Team.

Below: Senior Jesus Calanocit has been a 4 year starter. He has been on the All District team for 3 years, being selected on the 1st team this year again. His great infield ability and good batting average show his experience as a fantastic short stop and pitcher.

In the outfield, Junior Matt Nabers used ability and judgement to make some winning plays for the team. For his success, he was selected on the 1st All District Team.

Junior Pitcher Brad Brooks made the 1st All District Team because he was good. His pitching gave the fans thrills and the other teams chills.

Right field was covered by Senior Colby Felps. To play with a team like his is fun because they all work together to get the most out of what they do best.

Officers advise class functions

Right: Senior Vice President Jean "Chewy" Calametti is an excellent athlete and class officer. As Most Valuable Player in basketball, his leadership helped him to keep class "activities" in perspective.

Far Right: Band is a big part of Secretary-Treasurer William Hostetter's school life. He was selected as Most Outstanding Band Student by fellow band members. They appreciate his leadership and so does the senior class.

Above: Excelling in what you do brings leadership qualities. Senior President and Most Valuable Tennis Player Balba Roberts has kept the class lead in the right direction.

Karen and Richard— good choice for Best All Around

Left: It was very easy for the seniors to pick Karen Jones and Richard Smith as the people who demonstrate the character of a "True Senior." Karen is always quiet, cool, and collected. Richard is in and out of everything and the "life of the party."

Above: Being selected as Most Valuable Offensive Player on the football team was only one place where Richard showed that he was an "all around" super guy.

Left: One feature about pride comes when you excel in almost everything you do. Karen excels in her studies, sports, and on the keyboard of a piano. Being selected as Best All Around fits her graciously.

Tina and Terrel— Most Friendly selection

Right: Chosen as "Most Friendly," because of their bubbly personality and warm smiles were Terrel Byler and Tina Stauffer.

Below: Richard Courtney was happy to get out of Home and Family class to help the Young Homemakers' Bicycle Safety Program.

Left: Before going on the field as the FHA nominee for Homecoming Queen, Kim Bindsell gives the crowd a wave and one of her famous smiles.

Below: Dina's high intelligence and extreme dedication enabled her to move up a year and join the Senior Class. We were proud to have her.

Marilyn and Bubba named Most Likely to Succeed

Right: Being voted as Most Likely to Succeed means the class thinks these two people will make a big success of their life after graduation. The Senior Class believes in Marilyn and Bubba.

Above: Most of these girls have been in Top 4 for all their high school years. They have always excelled in their studies and all else they attempt to do. Marilyn Dechert (left), Chrisie Robinson, Carolyn Dechert (top left), and Karen Jonas have put learning first. We hope they continue this fabulous adventure.

Right: Football Nominer Carlette Crowder proudly represented the guys at the homecoming festivities. In a vote by the student body, she was named as Homecoming Princess. We have never had a princess, but due to a vote difference, Carlette was honored.

Right: "Big Bird" surprised everyone at the Dripping Springs game, especially Cheerleader Janet Dees. Not until the end of the game did anyone figure out that it was Denise Tyler—a super-line fan.

Serving as a teachers aide is selected by many students. William is Mr. Mac's helper in the library before lunch.

For all her thirteen years of education, Jo Anne has attended Blanes. Most of the original nine who started out in Kindergarten together have a special bond that can never be broken.

Karen Lee Jonas, the daughter of Maxie and Donna Jonas of Kendalia, has been active in Blanco Schools for twelve years. She has two sisters, Krissie, who is currently attending San Antonio College, and Kim a student at Blanco High School. Her two younger brothers, Kevin and Kolin, are also enrolled in Blanco Schools. Her father is a Supply Management Technician at Kelly Air Force Base and her mother is occupied as a homemaker.

Karen has been in the top four of her class throughout her high school years. As a UIL participant, she qualified for state in Typing, her junior year, having taken third places at both the District and Regional Meets. She also placed first in Ready Writing at the District meet her senior year. An avid student, her favorite subjects include typing, Spanish, and algebra.

Karen was chosen as a class favorite her freshman year, and was voted the Best All-Around from her senior class. She has been involved in numerous extracurricular activities, including volleyball, track, the Spanish Club, TAG Plus, and FHA.

Having been blessed with musical abilities, she plays the piano, flute, guitar, and fiddle. She has held the office of Pianist for the FHA for three consecutive years. She also enjoys cooking, sewing, swimming, and juggling, as well as the outdoors.

Karen is looking forward to continuing her education at Ambassador College at Big Sandy, Texas, in the fall.

Karen makes top position as Valedictorian

Karen's quickness and agility on the volleyball court helped the team to place third in District.

Chrissie Robinson

Chrissie's excellence earns her Salutatorian

Chrissie was born in Aransas Pass, lived in Houston for nine years, then moved to Blanco for her seventh grade year.

The oldest of four children, Chrissie has two younger sisters: Debbie 16, and Missy 6, and one younger brother: Leonard 12.

She has been an active participant in a variety of activities during her attendance in Blanco schools, including junior high sports and JV Cheerleading her freshman year.

Since seventh grade, she has been a member of High School Band, served as music librarian for one year, and Drum Major her junior and senior years. She placed at District Band tryouts two years, and qualified her senior year to compete at State Solo and Ensemble contest.

She was also active in the community as a Girl Scout—first class, and was second runner-up in the Miss Blanco Pageant.

As a member of the Journalism staff, she attended the UIL Literary meet, placing first in District Editorials. She and Debbie won a District first in Debate.

She performed in UIL One-act Plays all four years, three of which she won District and advanced to Area. Her junior year she played the lead and won Best Actress at District. And this year she received a District All-Star Cast award, and won Best Actress at Area.

Chrissie was in the top four of her class every year, ending up with an overall grade point average of 96.6; and earned an academic scholarship to attend Angelo State University.

Left: Chrissie enjoyed her four years in the Drama Club. The experience obtained in these four years enabled her to receive Best Actress at Area competition.

"Nobody does it better"

After the NASA presentation, Erik was extremely interested in the displays. The program educated everyone in exactly why our government is spending so many billions on the space program.

At the football games, seniors are genuinely interested in the outcome. Al Center, Richard was an asset because he handled the job of keeping the team psyched up.

"Rise above the ordinary"

Left: From first grade until now, Senior Buddy "Buzzer" Kuhn has always been a real clown. Everybody enjoys being around him because if something isn't going on, Buddy will start the action.

Lori couldn't believe that the junior got to have the prom in San Antonio this year. Because the city building couldn't be used this year, last year's juniors could relate to why the "R4 juniors" held the prom at Canyon Creek Country Club.

Above: Debra Wolfe Knoll is one of our married seniors. She handles the job of school and family life well.

Mario is an outstanding runner. Competing in the two mile run, Mario was the only senior who qualified for the state track meet in Austin.

Bubba's athletic ability on the basketball and tennis courts were assets to both programs. We wish him the best of luck in "AggieLand".

Rain dampens Senior Trip, but not that great Senior Spirit!

Right: Senior Sponsor Ernie Hoffman hands out tickets to the seniors getting ready for Water World. It was drizzling rain, but they all wanted to get in as much as possible. Togetherness was the spirit of the day—everyone had to make the best of the situation. Sponsor Nancy Boddiker, Teacher Ann Beckham, and Teacher Bill Spurgin took it all in stride because they knew these kids can take anything and make the best of it.

Above: The fountain at Astro World didn't have to spray water. It was getting more from the sky than from the pumps below.

Right: Darlene, you had better move it fast because Artist Rex is going to mix more than paint when he hits you. The few dry moments during Saturday's visit to Water World were a blast for the seniors. They played like crazy when they could in the big city of Houston.

After a few hours at the Galleria, the lunch started on their way to Astro World. It was great to ride the rides, and have a good time together.

On their way home on Saturday, most of the seniors were really tired. For 42 hours, this bunch spent their last time as a group together in a slap-happy way.

Behind these feet lives the big "Egg," none other than the Kendallia "Flash" Russell Edmondson. This country boy did make a big splash when he got to the end of the slide at Water World.

2nd year in high school brings sophomores closer to the top

During a pep rally, Mary Jones and Richard Jones worked hard to win in the life saver passing contest for the sophomore class.

Kenneth Huestler showed great flexibility of character playing Pismo in "Once Upon a Clownline" for the Christmas play.

Fifteen advance to regional meet held in Victoria

Right: Keeping 3 children as active as his makes L. J. Proin a very busy man besides his duties on the school board. He works for a local petroleum distributing company.

Below: In her second year as a member of the board, Secretary Bonnie Riley stays on top of her business and one remaining son in school. Her work with the sports banquets shows her total involvement.

During her first year on the board, businesswoman and homemaker Angie Smith was 100% behind the decision to upgrade our present school plant as was the entire board. Our large enrollment caused them to initiate a $930,000 bond election that passed on a 4 to 1 margin.

School Board initiated bond election for improvements and renovations.

Mrs. Innes has been president for 6 years of her 9 years on the board. She has been an active force in changing education to the betterment of her community. Being a successful businesswoman and homemaker for her family gave her the ability to want the best for others—a true mark of leadership. Because this is her last year to serve, our PTO recognized the vigor and energy of Mrs. Innes and made her their "Citizen of the Year."

School Board makes decisions that affect school life. One of their many decisions this year was that the Jr.-Sr. Prom could be held in San Antonio. Vice-President and chairman Floyd Cooley tried the Grand March along with the largest prom ever, involving over 200 students, sponsors, teachers, and board members.

Charles Hunter is serving his first year as a member of the board. His 4 sons keep him constantly involved in their ranch, school and sports activities. For over 5 years he has worked with most boys who have played summer baseball.

Voters in our school district elected Stephen Frissenhahn to serve for 3 years—the term of all board members. To get the bond election passed, Mr. Frissenhahn and the other board members picked a 15 member advisory committee that surveyed and recommended the improvements that they thought the plant needed. Their work helped the bond election to pass successfully, especially after they took the proposal to the voters directly, because they knew what was needed for Blanco I.S.D.

Superintendent supports educating the total person

At the faculty basketball game with Johnson City during the 4th quarter, "All American" Superintendent Bobby Roberts just had to take a break from the big game. Mr. Roberts said that his coaching days kept him active, but that his activities as head administrator for the school are more mental than physical.

For 8 years, Mr. Roberts, with degrees from SWTSU, has been the overseer of every program that has been administered here at Blanco I.S.D. His experience and talent has kept the school moving in the right direction—educating the total person.

20 years working for anyone says that you are reliable. Mrs. Joy Brussel has been school secretary and messenger-collector for the district for that many years. She is indeed an asset to the school system.

Assisting Mrs. Brussel with office duties—especially payroll, Mrs. Carol Spurgin has been with the district 6 years. She is also secretary and migrant aide in the elementary in the afternoons.

Working for two principals keeps veteran Ruth Harvey busy most of the day. She has been doing this kind of work for 18 years. She also keeps the attendance and health records.

Ernest Hoffman directs high school

Everyone is extremely proud of our 1975 graduate Willie "Choggy" Uphaw. He currently plays professional baseball for the Toronto Blue Jays. High School Principal Ernest Hoffman was happy to introduce Choggy to the student body at a TAG assembly.

With degrees from SWTSU, Mr. Hoffman in his 2nd year at Blanco, not only sees that the high school as a whole runs smoothly, but sees that all senior activities are executed at the proper time and place. He hopes that all students grow toward a happy and prosperous life in whatever they decide to do.

Phyllis Owen keeps elementary moving

If someone saw Elementary Principal Phyllis Owen at the Halloween Carnival, they might think that being head of the elementary has grayed her hair, but she assures in that it has not. As "Old Mother Time," she was constantly trying to give away her New Year Baby, saying "Take the baby, you can do a better job than I have."

For four years, Mrs. Owen—with degrees from Arizona State and NTSU, has constantly upgraded her elementary students and teachers. She is never satisfied with the present because she knows the horizon is always bright with new ideas.

Teachers direct a part of student life

Pep rallies just would not be a pep rally without a few inspirational lines from Blanco's Poet Laureate Mary Nabers. Her dramatic accents would make Shakespeare proud.

Give a teacher a Santa Claus suit and a fake microphone and some of them (particularly Business Teacher Bill Spurgin) think they are one of the Oak Ridge Boys singing their Christmas album. He and the others were full of merriment, but their act put everyone in the spirit after the play the day school let out for the holidays on December 16.

Less of time and work goes into producing those Friday night football games that we all enjoy so very much, whether it be you are a sports fan, half-time lover, or a social mingler. Coach Doug Hurkaby lives his sports because they supply his mind with challenge, fun, and participation with an outstanding bunch of athletes.

Normal classroom vigor sustained by support personnel

Whenever teachers can help a student or family with their troubles, they respond in whatever way they can. County Deputy Conrad Nagel's children had some dreaded illnesses strike them which strained the family unit. The sheriff's department challenged the faculty and others to a game of tag football to help raise at least a part of the Nagel family medical bills. What better way to get people out for a good cause than to have "cops" play the "old school teachers."
